Dear Ferna Health hiring team,

I am applying for the Senior Platform Engineer role posted on your careers page.

Your posting asks for someone who can consolidate CI pipelines across several product teams. At Nordwind Logistics I led exactly that kind of consolidation: I replaced five team-specific Jenkins setups with one shared pipeline template, which cut average build times from 28 to 11 minutes and removed the per-team maintenance burden that had consumed about a day a week. The migration succeeded because I worked through the teams one at a time rather than forcing a single cutover, which is how I would approach yours.

I am based in Berlin and can start within two months.

Kind regards,
Maya Chen
